Description	Details
Ex.Div. Date	One business day before the company's Record Date. To be entitled to a dividend a shareholder must have purchased shares before the ex-dividend date.
Payment Date	Date the company paid dividend
Type	Either interim or final. The last dividend in the company's financial year is classified as final and all others are classified as interim. Some dividends may also be classified as 'special' in accordance with the advice given by the company about the dividend. Ordinarily the term 'special' is used to indicate that the dividend is not one that is paid regularly each year, but the term may be used differently by different companies.
Div. Amount	Dividend shown as cents per share.
Franking %	Percentage of dividend entitled to franking credit. A partly franked 75% dividend means that the company has already paid tax on 75% of the dividend at a 30% tax rate, but not on the remaining 25%.
Units	Number of units held
Franking Credit	Dividend paid by a company out of profits on which the company has already paid tax. The investor is entitled to an imputation credit, or reduction in the amount of income tax that must be paid, up to the amount of tax already paid by the company.

Unfranked amount	An unfranked dividend represents company profits paid to shareholders which have no tax credits attached to the dividend. ... All dividends whether franked or unfranked are not a tax-deductible expense to the company
Est. Div	Sum of money paid regularly by a company to its shareholders.
